

Teaching Evaluations and Materials

I served as Instructor of Record for ECON 2105: Introduction to Macroeconomics (Summer 2025). Below are my quantitative teaching evaluation results. Evaluations were rated on a 1–5 scale (5 = strongly agree). At the top of the table I have highlighted the two questions that the department looks at to measure the quality of the instructor. “Effective at teaching subject matter” and “Overall, the course was excellent”

Table 1: Quantitative Feedback for ECON 2105: Introduction to Macroeconomics, Summer 2025

Questions	Average	Std. Dev.
Instructor Effectiveness
Effective at teaching subject matter	4.66	0.61
Overall, the course was excellent	4.70	0.59
Course
The course was well organized	4.70	0.46
The course objectives were clearly stated	4.70	0.59
Instructor
Available outside of class to answer questions	4.90	0.31
Stimulated student interest in course material	4.70	0.53
Enthusiastic about teaching	4.63	0.53
Well prepared for class	4.80	0.41
Used class time effectively	4.86	0.35
Encouraged student participation	4.76	0.43
Presented ideas and concepts clearly	4.73	0.52
Grading, Course Assignments, Text, and Reading Materials
Textbook and materials were useful	4.50	0.77
Assignments and activities were useful	4.76	0.51
Homework and exams returned promptly	4.86	0.35
Exams were fair	4.70	0.59
Feedback on graded work was valuable	4.73	0.52
Outcomes
Course was of value	4.76	0.50
Learned a lot in this course	4.80	0.48
Course challenged to think and learn	4.73	0.58
Would take another course with instructor	4.56	0.89
Number of Responses	30/40
Response Rate	75%

Table 2 provides representative student written feedback for ECON 2105: Introduction to Macroeconomics (Summer 2025).

Table 2: Written Feedback for ECON 2105: Introduction to Macroeconomics (Summer 2025)

Course Feedback	Instructor Feedback
“Class was always fun to go to, the exams were very clear and always tied the econ to real world applications”	“Prof. Michopoulos was very passionate about sports econ. He consistently kept the class engaged and asked intriguing questions. If nobody knew the answer immediately he would guide us. Honestly one of the best professors I’ve had and I looked forward to class each time.”
“Course material was very fun and engaging.”	“The instructor is very involved and likes to include his students and relate to them. Would take another class with him.”
“The class was extremely fair and the professor did everything he could to help the students and to make things fair. Assignments were relevant and extremely helpful preparation for exams.”	“Truly enjoys the concepts, makes taking attendance interesting, loves to engage a good conversation with a student”
“The course was exciting. It was such a unique way for me to use my econ knowledge and topics I have learned. The course material was in a good order and flowed well.”	“the instructor was very enthusiastic about the material. he sparked interest for the course and honestly made me really like the class. he was funny too, which made the material and class even more interesting! i would honestly say one of my favorite professors also because he didn’t try and stress out the class.”
“The grading criteria in this class was very fair and timely. I would say there is a fair amount of cushion to keep your grade where you’d like. Additionally the professor graded our tests more than fairly and was even happy to take a second look if we had any questions. We had problem sets provided to us that was incredibly helpful for tests.”	“Overall I could tell Mr. Sarris-Michopoulos was very passionate about the subject and I really enjoyed hearing him talk about his dissertation and it is obviously a subject he is knowledgeable about. Thoroughly enjoyed him as a professor and I was really impressed to find out he was a PhD student towards the end of the course.”
“The course was well organized & super straightforward. Everything was relevant and up to date which was helpful to understanding the current landscape of sports econ.”	“Our instructor was great. He obviously knows a lot about this topic. He is entertaining to listen to and talks to us and asks our opinions. He definitely welcomes in discussion and offers a lot of good outside knowledge.”

Table 2 continued from previous page

Course Feedback	Instructor Feedback
“The course was interesting and challenging. I enjoyed the content and would recommend it to other students.”	“The professor was awesome. He was enthusiastic and actually made it relatable to us students. I rave about him to others and strongly recommend this class. I wish I could take the class again. It was awesome and actually so interesting for someone who has any interest in sports.”